Student used text copied from web page to select main ideas and then dictated a summary before summarizing what the site had to say about the assigned topic.

Name _Janell_

C.030.SS2

Simple Summary

Main Idea	Main Idea	Main Idea

In any controversial issue, a good reporter will collect as many of these sources as is necessary to create a complete picture, balancing the scales, so to speak.

Very often in journalism it is not the actual reporting that is biased but rather the very sources of themselves.

Eye witness reports vary from one person to the next.

it is deceptive to the public when newsmen rely too much on routine channels. By doing so, they are leaving much of the task of selecting the news in the hands of their

...ws like an eye
He.   ...from an
it is r,   ...rs, determined that sources   sources.   ...o look at who the what the sources are saying.   ...ead of trying to interpret ummary (20 words or less)

The source can be what is biased. People see different things. A good reporter uses many sources.

Dictated to teacher

2-3 Student Center Activities: Comprehension

2006 The Florida Center for Reading Research (Revised July, 2007)